Atelier Oslo biography

Atelier Oslo is a young, prize-winning architecture studio that designs environmentally friendly public buildings and transformation projects.

The office portfolio ranges from larger urban development projects, to single-family houses, cabins, and installations.

Through their in-depth analysis of space, people and environment, Atelier Oslo develops rich and multi-faceted projects. Their working method is rooted in curiosity and interdisciplinary collaboration, and leads to innovative, sustainable solutions.

Atelier Oslo was founded in 2006 by Nils Ole Bae Brandtzæg, Thomas Liu, Marius Mowe and Jonas Norsted, and today consists of 15 architects with a varied and international background.
Lundhagem biography

Lundhagem is an award-winning architecture and urban design practice based in Oslo. The practice creates architecture, landscapes and interiors inspired by the Nordic design tradition of simplicity, minimalism and functionality. Its numerous projects are informed by a sensitivity to landscape and a dialogue between nature and the built environment.

Founded in 1990 by Svein Lund and Einar Hagem, Lundhagem today consists of over 60 employees and is managed by five Partners.

Whether for a small cabin or an urban master plan, Lundhagem’s work reflects a belief in combining the latest advances in technology and sustainability, whilst making use of local materials and handcraft traditions.

Lundhagem is passionately committed to the collaborative aspect of creating architecture and fundamentally believes that teamwork and continuous dialogue with clients, partners and end-users are essential to delivering excellence in architecture.
