The Créateurs Design Awards Announces the 2023 Winners

PARIS, FRANCE - On Saturday, January 22, 2023, the Créateurs Design Awards welcomed 120 guests to its annual black-tie event at the Shangri-La Paris, followed by the after-party at the Grand Salon and Terrace overlooking the Eiffel Tower.

Hundreds of submissions from 48 countries were evaluated and voted on by 300 Créateurs Design Association members from around the world. The winners in each category were announced, alongside a special presentation of the Andrée Putman Lifetime Achievement Award to iconic Japanese architect Tadao Ando, followed by a special presentation of the Le Prix Charlotte Perriand to visionary American architect Jeanne Gang. The Créateurs Design Awards are proud to be the only major award in the industry whose biggest prizes are named after iconic women.

Presenters included Michèle Lamy, Paolo Bleve, Zeynep Utku, Ini Archibong, Prisca Roys-Dossou, and last year's Best Collection winner Cristian Mohaded.

Tadao Ando quote: "I'm simply shocked to be able to receive such a fine award" (via video)

Jeanne Gang quote: "Charlotte Perriand is someone I have long admired for her craft, social consciousness, and environmental work. Charlotte Perriand is someone I looked to for inspiration. She really showed this fearlessness in adapting tools and new ways of making things, but she always deployed them with such care and intelligence and finding new combinations of old materials, new materials and traditional craft. In my own practice, I say we are driven by actionable idealism, which really means we are idealistic, but we put those things into action and try to work with different kinds of communities through our work."*

The entire award presentation is now available online at createursdesignawards.com.
