SIR Savigny[®]

Sir Savigny

With his stylish-yet-entirely-casual approach to design, Sir Savigny embodies the effortless, dressed-down style of a modern aristocratic. Erected in 1893, the ground floor and The Kitchen have been smartly refurbished by Baronowitz + Kronenberg Architecture while interior designer Saar Zafrir is responsible for the interiors of the 44 luxury guest rooms. The result is an effortlessly contemporary palette, featuring cool metals, calfskin, wood, hints of art nouveau and mid-century modern.

The Kitchen @ The Butcher

Sir Savigny's kitchen is the heart of his urban retreat, with a library, rotating art exhibitions and an intellectually convivial communal table. It is a vibrant meeting place for locals and cosmopolitans. The Kitchen is the kind of place where guests can discuss the aesthetics of Fassbinder while sipping an expertly mixed, ice-cold Manhattan and enjoying a bloody delicious burger from Sir Savigny's in-house kitchen, The Butcher.

Guest rooms

Sir Savigny is a unique place that is replete with custom furnishing, lighting and fabrics. It's all about making guests' stay at this urban boutique accommodation both thoroughly modern and very aristocratic. Guest rooms range from snug Sir Petit to cozy and comfortable Sir Deluxe and Sir Suite. All outfitted with a wellstocked minibar and cocktail concept, reading books, artifacts from Sir Savigny's time abroad, curated art, vintage rugs, a goodie box with his personal favorites. To satisfy earthier appetites Sir Savigny's in-house kitchen, The Butcher, serves up topnotch Aberdeen Angus beef from Scotland - available via a dial-a-burger button directly into your room.

Location

Savignyplatz is a traditional meeting place for the Berlin intelligentsia, where the leading writers, painters, actors, directors, journalists and critics of the day consort. It is famous for its bookstores, galleries and cafés. Literary salons and round table talks are traditionally hosted here; members of the aristocracy live in the area, as do young artists, designers and up-and-coming talents.

Sir Savigny's mansion is nestled between the Literaturhaus, Bücherbogen, the University of Arts, Gallery Max Metzler and C/O Berlin, Paris Bar and Diener restaurant, A-Trane and Quasimodo jazz clubs, Helmut Newton Foundation and Haus der Berliner Festspiele. Not to mention all the eclectic lifestyle boutiques, grand cinemas like the Delphi Filmpalast, and Berlin's legendary Kurfürstendamm. This area is a cultural bash, its inhabitants are shaped by savoir vivre.

SIR HOTELS

SIR is a legendary collection of luxury boutique hotels. Each SIR curates its own cosmos and has entrepreneurial spirits, a fine taste of aesthetics and feature a distinctive destination for the design savvy traveller of the 21st century. Each SIR hotel is a home, an enviable pad belonging to a unique character. This character is a 'modern aristocrat', which means he belongs to a new breed of upper class, individuals who have all the trappings of aristocracy but none of the pretensions. They are worldly, well-traveled, super-slick and uber-stylish.

SIR is a family of passionate individuals dedicated to curating original guest experiences in an authentic, creative and emotional connected manner. SIR hotels stage are social gathering places in vibrant cultural neighbourhoods where travellers meet the locals.

SIR is part of a burgeoning movement: over the coming years, modern aristocrats' will open their luxury boutique homes to the public in prime European cities. Sir Nikolai in Hamburg and Sir Adam in Amsterdam will open their doors in Summer 2016.

Sir Albert in Amsterdam is already very much looking forward to welcome you as his esteemed guest.
