WASOBUKY

Much more than a bicycle rack.

Versatility in a unique idea.

Bicycles have always represented a sense of freedom, creativity and ecology. The essence of being out in the open air, close to nature. Environmentally clean and friendly: embracing man's passion for a better future.

Yet up to now, bicycle racks have rarely been associated with this aspect, commonly seen as little more evocative than a garden rake: grey and often rusty objects that do nothing to brighten up the modern urban landscape.

Decorstyle and designer Alessio Silvi have, instead, created a bicycle stand which lives up to its design ideal while adding a splash of colour to urban street furniture.

Symbiotic, innovative and unique:
