

The real challenge of the project is to create a new model of sports city, where large commercial spaces and sports are combined.

Thus was born the idea of sports facilities great importance within a shopping center, creating a dialogue and an interpenetration of services preparatory to both activities, where the flows will remain separate, to allow the simultaneous opening of both functions.

In a quiet detached area, the District Sports Center take shape.

The extension of the current cycle path, which surrounds and connects the intervention, makes the new urban fabric completely accessible.
