

House in Nakauchi

Built in the suburbs of Maebashi-shi Gunma, a wooden two-story house for four people.

It is a house with a solarium for cultivating succulent plants, which is a hobby of the owner, and viewing.

As a residential area, we built a compact building on a large site based on a grid along the shape of a parallelogramic site.

The solar part and the residential part are structurally independent while complementing each other's functions, enabling expansion, reduction, renewal of solar room parts which can be anticipated in the future.