

BOTANIA

Conjuring up Nature in its most selvatic and natural aspect embodies the starting point of Botania: branches , leaves and insects all around are the main characters of this project so much as in its natural version as in its representation through textures, colours and organic shapes.

As a result, we find ourselves wrapped in a so bucholic and romantic atmosphaera that smoothes our senses from the hectic vibes of the city