Solar panels on the facade contribute to the school's energy consumption and can be actively used for teaching purposes.

Active roofscapes with space for ball games and other sports.

Rainwater retention in connection with green roofs.

Views from classrooms towards green external areas.

Pupils can grow vegetables, berries and herbs in the roof gardens.

All floor finishes are timber flooring.

Strong visual connections between the facade and surrounding functions.

Active edge areas and functions towards the harbor.

The building’s geometry encourages natural activity and play as part of daily movement.

Strong visual connections between the facade and surrounding functions.