

Conigrave House Press Release

Daniel Boddam

Conigrave House

This Victorian home in Hunters Hill has been updated to embody timeless elegance. The heritage charm and period features have been complimented by a tasteful and restrained renovation.

The footprint of the house was decluttered and reduced to create more functional rooms, opening up harbour views, providing more structure to the living areas and access to natural light.

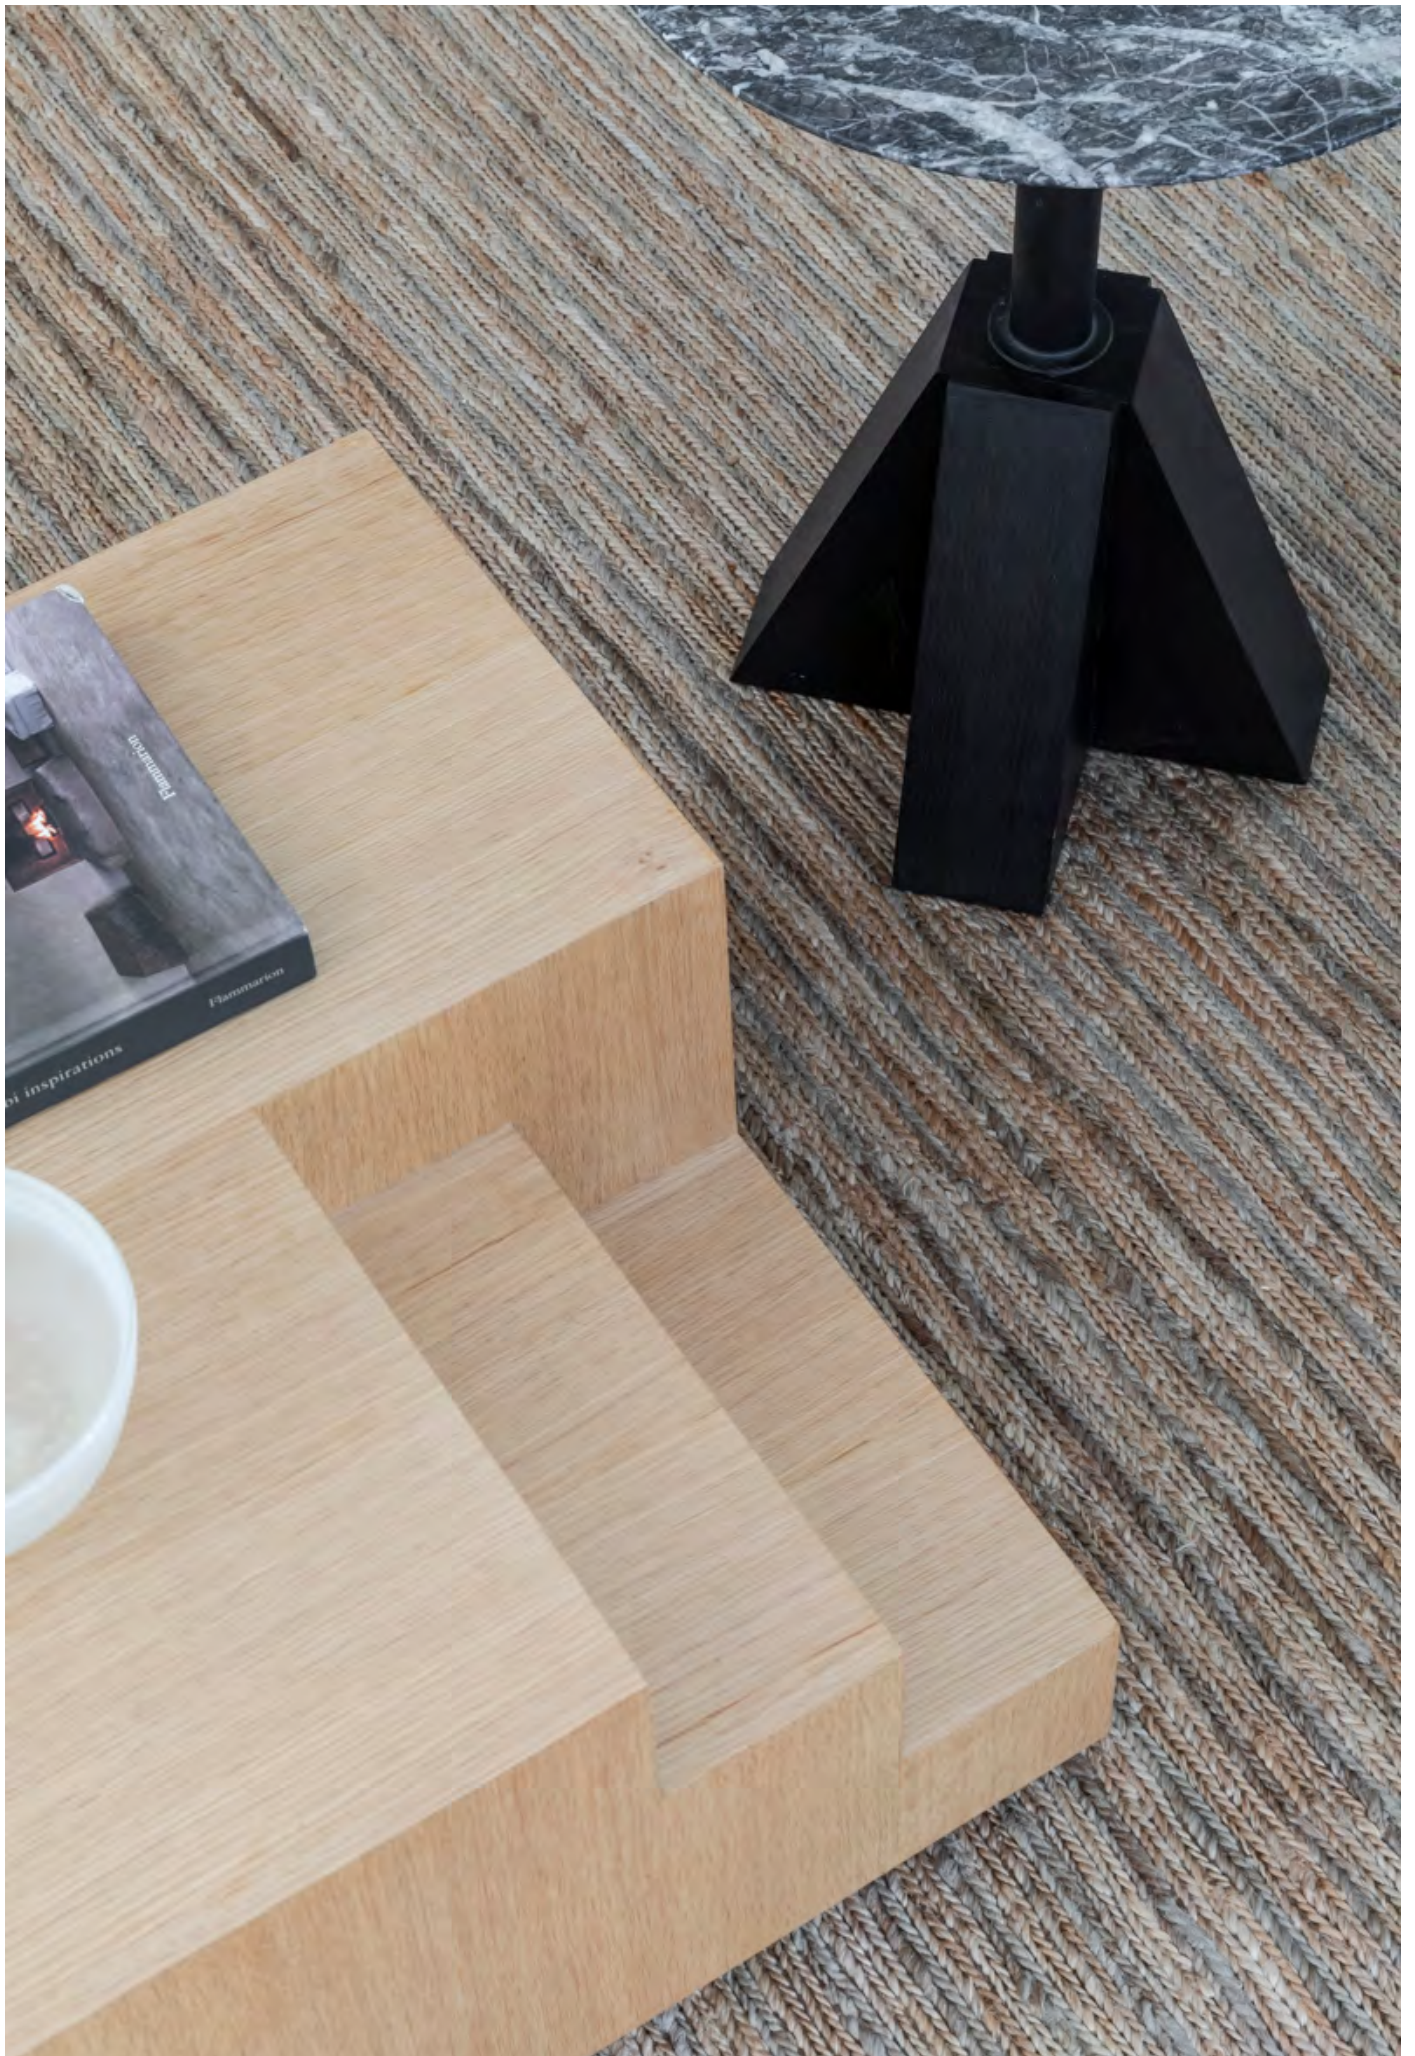

A sophisticated monochromatic colour palette has been applied to the interiors, clean modern detailing gives the project a timeless feel with the blending of modern and traditional elements.

The feeling I'm seeking to create in my work is a sense of calm, balance and well-being. Simplicity, elegance and timelessness are at the core of every project.

I create architecture, interiors and furniture that has a transformative and calming effect to people's lives; specialising in high quality, bespoke residential environments that are considered, detailed, client centric and site specific.

We work in a collaborative way with our clients and consultants and strive to exceed expectations. We make the design and delivery process a streamlined and pleasurable experience.
