AN OVERVIEW OF MANDARIN ORIENTAL, BODRUM

Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum, marking the highly anticipated debut of the award-winning hotel group to Turkey, is ideally located on a 60 hectare waterfront site on the northern side of the peninsula, at Cennet Koyu (Paradise Bay), offering panoramic views over the Aegean Sea. Built on a series of levels nestled in the resort's landscaped hillside, surrounded by ancient olive groves and pine trees, this luxurious destination resort offers the perfect retreat and is poised to become Turkey's most desirable address over the Aegean Sea.

A luxurious hideaway

International designer Antonio Citterio has created the resort's 127 rooms, suites, apartments and villas in an elegant, 21st century contemporary style, taking full advantage of the resort's outstanding vistas and providing the absolute feeling of being at one with nature. Design elements have been influenced by the Group's oriental heritage as well as from local cultural ancestry, with Mandarin Oriental's exacting attention to detail. All incorporate the Group's guest-centred technology and entertainment systems and provide the largest accommodation in the area. Each room encompasses its own sun-deck, terrace or balcony, many with private gardens and infinity edged pools.

Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum's Sea View Rooms and Mediterranean Suites are the most spacious in the Bodrum Peninsula, ranging from 72 to 145 square metres and are flooded with natural light. Most of the rooms feature outside terraces offering with dining area and sunbeds. The suites blend into a private outdoor terrace featuring a plunge pool and outdoor shower with spectacular views over the Aegean Sea and a garden-inspired atmosphere.

wellness, beauty and massage programmes within the region. Many specifically developed treatments incorporate the use of natural handmade ingredients from the resort's own gardens. The riches of Turkey's centuries-old unique tradition of water therapy is offered in a stunning "hammam".

Built on a hillside ridge overlooking a lush valley and the Aegean Sea, the spacious spa benefits from a secluded location. The 2,700 sq.m Spa features 12 treatment rooms, including VIP Spa Suite "Orkide" and a Couples' Spa Suite as well as two outdoor cabanas with expansive terraces set in the cascading Mediterranean landscape.

Further facilities include significant heat and water therapies including hammams with private scrub rooms, an indoor swimming pool and an outdoor vitality pool. Extensive fitness facilities are also on offer, including a dedicated studio where guests can practice Pilates and yoga in private or group sessions.

Skincare products used in the spa treatments are formulated using the highest quality organically grown plants, which are known for their purity, potency and therapeutic qualities. These include Mandarin Oriental's signature product line developed specifically for the Group by London-based award-winning company Aromatherapy Associates.

Leisure facilities abound on property and are focused around the resort's expansive stretch of shoreline and two private beaches. The water sports centre offers a wealth of activities from scuba diving and snorkelling to sailing and fishing, with a variety of wooden jetties available for transfers with zodiac boats. Sports facilities including two tennis courts and a basketball court, a jogging path circling Paradise Bay, and an array of swimming pools set in the resort's verdant hillsides. Youngsters enjoy a dedicated Kids Club, featuring a variety of inspired programmes. The 18-hole Vita Park championship golf course is a 30-minute drive from the hotel, and guests are offered a range of lifestyle experiences such as tours by helicopter and aboard a traditional Turkish sailboat called a gulet.

Exclusive meetings and events

The resort's flexible indoor meeting space caters to a diverse range of events from business gatherings such as conferences, board meetings and executive retreats to social affairs. Function rooms located on the ground floor of resort's main building ensure easy access and are drenched in natural sunlight. The Oriental Ballroom, featuring the latest technology, can accommodate up to 440 guests. A dedicated and innovative meetings and banquet team is on hand to personalize and customize any occasion.

About Bodrum

Offering a rich cultural history and labelled 'Land of the Eternal Blue' by Homer, the Bodrum Peninsula is establishing itself as one of the Mediterranean's most exclusive leisure destinations. With its spectacular coastline on the Aegean Sea and its temperate climate, the Turkish Riviera offers visitors a stunning combination of pine-clad mountains, private beaches and charming coastal villages adorned with bougainvillea.

Mandarin Oriental, Bodrum is located on the northern side of the Bodrum Peninsula. It is close to the charming waterfront village of Göltürkbükü, which has picturesque narrow streets, waterside restaurants and a peaceful bay. Göltürkbükü is also a popular stopover destination for the super yachts that sail along the Turkish-Mediterranean coast. The resort is a 45 minute drive from Milas-Bodrum International Airport and 30 minutes from the centre of Bodrum. It can be reached by private helicopter, yacht and limousine.
